FOR BROWN'S

THE BLOOD

IRON

BITTERS

Combining IRON with PURE VEGETABLE

TONICS, quickly and completely CLEANSES

AND ENRICHES THE BLOOD. Quickens

the action of the Liver and Kidneys. Clears the complexion, makes the skin smooth. It does not injure the teeth, cause headache, or produce constipation—ALL OTHER IRON MEDICINES DO.

Physicians and Druggists everywhere recommend it.

DR. S. R. ROGERS, of Marion Mass., says: "I recommend Brown's Iron Bitters as a valuable tonic for enriching the blood, and removing all dyspeptic symptoms. It does not hurt the teeth."

DR. R. M. DEWEY, Reynolds, Ind., says: "I have prescribed Brown's Iron Bitters in cases of anemia and blood disease, also when a tonic was needed, and it has proved thoroughly satisfactory."

DR. W. H. HAYES, 26 St. Mary St., New Orleans, La., says: "Brown's Iron Bitters relieved me in a case of blood poisoning, and I heartily commend it to those needing a tonic."

This medicine has Trade Mark and crossed red lines on wrapper. Take no others. Made only by DISAPPOINTMENT.

For the sake of recreation,

Once I took an explanation

From a young man (no relation,

What I meant by "recreation,"

While I shifted my location

To invite the sweet sensation.

Well, imagine my vexation

When he gave me the translation

And its Latin derivation,

And a lot of information,

Like a pedagogue's oration.

Just as if he were at school—

Wasn't he an awful fool?

—ONE OF THE GIRLS.

The Rejected Lover.

The situation of a man who has been "winged" is much better than that of a girl under the same circumstances. At first he takes it very hard. He rails against marriage, sneers at women in general, and becomes for the time being a second Diogenes. Ere many months have elapsed he emerges from his tub and sulky fit. He now begins to realize that he is "interesting." A hale of romance encircles him; others may bear away the palm in literature, science, or art, but there are some kind souls by whom the dejected hero is at once placed on a pedestal, owing to the mere fact of his having been badly treated by one of their own sex.

"Poor Edwin! so clever, so amusing, and broken hearted!" says Angelina to herself. She at once sets to work to repair the damage done by the unappreciative rival. It is her pleasing task to guide the wounded spirit through the successive stages of pique, cynicism, desire for sympathy, and platonic friendship, until Edwin is gently but firmly led to the altar before he well knows where he is. Sometimes, however, the young man is too wide awake for this, and while making a very good thing out of his broken heart, he prefers confiding his sorrows to more than one Angelina, deftly "sheering off" when city is becoming inconveniently like love. Thus one disappointment may prove a foundation for many distinctions, and Edwin consoles himself, and is consoled, by an ever varying procession of good Samaritans, till at last he really forgets how it all began, and who jilted. He has the proud satisfaction of feeling that he has amply avenged his wrongs by the number of lighted beings whom he has "winged" in his turn, and continues his triumphal progress until it is brought to a close by a well-dowered widow in the "roaring forties," from whom he fails to escape, and finally settles down to "peace with honor" and a comfortable income.

A BRAVE GIRL.

Who Saved Herself from Horrible

Death in Russia.

[From Russia, by the San Francisco Call.]

The correspondent of the Novostey Dna (Daily News) writes that, near the village of Kagoshua a terrible murder was lately committed. A Russian peasant, who had been to the village to sell a pair of oxen, was returning home with his daughter, a girl of 14 years, when on his way he stopped at a kobach (a drinking house) three miles from town. In the place were suspicious-looking persons, who noticed the peasant's money, and near by the door he was seized. The unsuspecting man left the house and on his way. Soon after, under cover of the darkness, he was assaulted and killed.

After rifling the corpse the murderers threw the body of their unfortunate victim into a well. The girl, who had been a witness of her father's murder, returned to the house where her father had stopped, and informed the owner of the money which had occurred.

He told the girl to keep quiet, and persuaded her to stay at his place during the night, and he would see what could be done in the morning. Hardly had he and his wife had time to put the girl to bed with his own daughter, a girl of the same age, before the murderers returned. The kobachnik (saloon keeper) acquainted them with the girl's return, where upon they noticed the peasant's money, and completing their work by cutting the throat of the innocent child. The kobachnik objected to this mode of despatching the girl, as the body might be discovered, and be an easy means of identifying him as an accessory to the murder of her and her father. He proposed to burn her alive in the bread oven. To this the others consented, and accordingly he ordered his wife to prepare for the burning of the girl. When the oven was ready he directed his accomplice to take the girl, who was lying on the outside of the bed, with a yellow handkerchief bound around her head, and throw her into the oven. At the same time he cautioned them to be quiet in their work in order to prevent her from making an outcry. The girl, nervous and agitated by the dreadful work of the night, had not gone to sleep. She breathlessly listened to the preparations of the villains for her own murder. Quietly rising from the bed she looked about for a means of escape, but saw none except a window, which was fastened with a large nail, the only other means of exit being the door through which she had been brought, and which led directly to the room the murderers were in.

The terror-stricken girl looked about in hopes of finding some weapon of defense to use as a last resort. There was nothing in the place but a cup filled with water. Involuntarily she grasped it, then laid it down. Suddenly an idea seemed to seize her.

Turning toward the bed she untied the yellow handkerchief over her head, and tied it on that of her sleeping companion, taking care to draw it well down on her face so as to conceal her features. Then grasping the sleeping girl by the shoulder, she rolled her over until she rested on the foot of the bed. Then the desperate girl crawled over to the inside and waited. The murderers, guided on the description given by the kobachnik, seized the girl with the yellow handkerchief over her face and threw her into the oven. After completing their terrible work they went to sleep, thus giving the other girl chance to escape. She immediately made her way back to town and gave information to the police. No time was lost, and a posse of officers, under the guidance of the girl, soon had the murderers in custody.

FOR STATE TREASURER,
JAMES W. TATE,
OF FRANKLIN COUNTY.

ANNOUNCEMENTS.

We are authorized to announce James Breathitt as a candidate to represent Christian county in the Legislature. Subject to the action of the Republican party.

We are authorized to announce Mr. Frank B. Richardson as a candidate to represent Christian county in the Lower House of the next Legislature.

The Gleaner, the new Henderson paper, will appear July 20th. It will be a nine column weekly.

Chas. Casper, a Jew, purchased $8,000 worth of goods on time, sold the same for cash and then left Frankfort and was out of the United States before he was missed.

The Philadelphia papers have quit kicking about the occupancy of Fairmount Park by the soldiery and the people are giving them a hearty welcome. The Kentucky troops arrived last Sunday.

The gambling houses of Louisville were again closed Tuesday night, upon warrants sworn out by the Law and Order Club. They were permitted to re-open some time since by the "Reform Mayor," who is now out on a bridal tour. The people are determined that the houses shall be no longer operated in open violation of the law.

Mrs. Lucille Yesselt Dudley was tried in New York Tuesday for shooting O'Donovan Rossa last February, with intent to kill. She harangued the jury in her own defense and succeeded in convincing them that she was a crank, and was acquitted on the ground of insanity. An effort will be made to have Mrs. Dudley returned to England and placed in an Asylum for Lunatics.

The new postal rate went into effect the 1st inst. Letters twice as heavy as heretofore can now go for two cents, that is one ounce in weight. The rate of postage on newspapers has been reduced from two cents to one cent per pound. On papers circulated in the counties in which they are published there is no postage. This reduction of postage on the papers sent to other counties will, however, be a big thing in the course of a year and save the average country editor enough to buy him a suit of clothes.

Mr. Frank B. Richardson is to-day announced as a candidate for the Legislature from this county. He is a young man of energy, popularity and strong mental endowments and will go into the fight to win if an active and energetic canvass will avail anything. His opponent, Mr. Breathitt, has not yet begun the canvass, and we may look for a short and heated canvass during the present month. Mr. Richardson is a Democrat and his opponent is a Republican but neither has received a party endorsement, but both will probably rely upon individual merits and personal popularity to a great extent. Both will have a strong following and will draw about their enthusiastic adherents. Mr. Breathitt while representing the dominant party, will be handicapped by a vulnerable record and will by no means have a walk-over.

The Cholera.

MADRID, June 30.—The total number of cases of cholera reported yesterday from the infected district in Spain is 1,322 and the total number of deaths 602, being an increase of 30 per cent. in new cases and 6 per cent. in deaths over the total number officially reported yesterday.

Twenty-three new cases of cholera were to-day reported in Madrid.

At a time of the year when the cholera had only taken a few scores of lives in Toulon and its suburbs and had just made its appearance in Marseilles in 1884, there have been 4,200 deaths reported from eight provinces of Spain, which is much more than half the entire number of deaths in all of France last year. From the start the rate of mortality in Spain has been far greater than it was in France, and latterly it has become greater than it was last year even in Naples. The average ratio of deaths to cases now is about four in nine throughout Spain. Roughly speaking, the death rate was two in seven in France last year and three in seven in Italy. Within the last week, in Murcia, more than half the people attacked have died, and in the new provinces, where the pest has appeared within the last few days, escapes have been the exception.

MADRID, July 1.—The total number of new cases of cholera reported yesterday from the infected districts is 1,210, and the total number of deaths 615.

GEN. GRANT.

He Can Last Only a Few Days.

WASHINGTON, June 30.—Gen. Dent, who is Gen. Grant's brother-in-law, said to-day: "I am afraid that Gen. Grant will not last many days. To-day I received information from the family that the cancer has commenced to inflame the jugular vein, and death is the question of a few days in the opinion of his physicians."

Rowing in Rowan.

HOSTILITIES RESUMED IN THE MOUNTAINS AND TROOPS SENT TO MOREHEAD.

MOREHEAD, June 28.—The war broke out afresh here to-day. One man has been killed, another mortally wounded, another disabled and a revival of hostilities is expected at any moment.

A posse undertook to arrest Cook Humphreys and Humphreys shot and wounded Craig Toliver and was himself badly wounded and a man named Rayburn who was with him was killed outright.

It is feared by many that the worst is yet to come, and that the long struggle of last winter and spring will be renewed. It will be remembered that there have been two parties to this feud all the time. It began at the last August election over a quarrel which resulted in the killing of Floyd Toliver. Since then several other deaths have followed. County Attorney Young was shot from ambush, Deputy Sheriff Stuart Bingham was waylaid and killed, one of the Martins was killed while a prisoner, and several pitched battles took place. Craig Toliver and Jeff Bowling took the leadership of one party, while Logan Carey, Sheriff Humphreys and several others were at the head of their opponents. The difference was finally adjusted after two or three visits from Adjutant General Castleman, and both parties agreed to quit and be friends. Mutual distrust has prevailed, however, and a revival of the fight has been constantly anticipated. Charges have been made that Cook Humphreys had hired a desperado named Ed. Pearce to kill his enemies, and to this Pearce made confession not long ago.

GOV. KNOTT ISSUES A PROCLAMATION ORDERING THE MILITIA TO THE SEAT OF WAR.

FRANKFORT, Ky., June 29.—The Governor this evening concluded to send thirty from three companies, instead of two, to Rowan county. Maj. McKee is in the city awaiting the arrival of the C. and O. train to take him to the scene of war. Adj. Gen. Castleman is expected on the train. The following order was issued by the Governor to-night, and will be carried by Maj. McKee as his warrant of authority.

"It having been made to appear to the satisfaction of the Governor that the domestic violence in Rowan county, actual and threatened, makes it necessary to render military aid to the civil authorities for the enforcement of law, the preservation of peace and the security of the rights, lives and property of sundry citizens of the Commonwealth, a detail of thirty men, rank and file, is hereby ordered into active service from each of the following named companies of the Second regiment of the State Guard, to-wit: Company F, Lieut. M. Mackie, commanding; Company H, Capt. G. W. Strother, commanding; and Company E, First regiment, Capt. J. Speed Smith; the entire detachment to be under the command of Maj. McKee, of the Second regiment. Capt. Strother and Lieut. Mackie, with their commands properly equipped for service, will report to Maj. McKee at the depot at Winchester and Mr. Sterling, respectively, on the arrival of the East-bound train to-night, and proceed under his orders at once to Morehead, where Capt. Smith with his command will report to him as early as practicable to-morrow. Arrived at Morehead, Maj. McKee will report to and act in conjunction with the civil authorities who may be in the county in the following gradation: Judge of the Court of Appeals; the Judge of the Circuit Court; the Judge of the County Court; Sheriff, Jailor, Justices of the Peace and Constables of the county. And in the absence of a judge of the Court of Appeals, or any other of the officers above named, the next in rank as herein enumerated, who shall be present, shall represent and exercise the civil power in its relation to the military power of the Commonwealth. The Major commanding will remember that the sole duty of his command is to render lawful assistance to the civil authority, to which it is subordinate, in the enforcement of the law by regular and legal means, and will be particularly careful that whatever he or those under his command may do shall be done under the authority of a legal warrant, and that in the discharge of their duty they shall act with absolute impartiality and without respect to person and party."

SOLDIERS ON GUARD.

MOREHEAD, Ky., June 30.—Two companies of State Guards arrived here by last night's express train at 1 o'clock and another company at 3 o'clock this afternoon. The guards took the body of Ben Rayburn to the Court-house last evening and buried it to-day. The County Judge has not returned to town yet, but will arrive to-morrow morning. The guards have done nothing as yet, and nothing of interest occurred until eight o'clock this evening, when parties from the brush fired probably half a dozen shots at Z. T. Young, Warren Anderson, F. W. Tolliver and J. E. Day, who were standing on the corner talking. They returned the fire three or four times. No one is reported hurt.

The threatened arson was averted by strict vigilance of the citizens prior to the arrival of the soldiers at Morehead this morning at 2 o'clock. The troops are quartered in the Court-house and the town is closely picketed. No further outbreak will now occur. This can be depended upon; the refugees are returning and a feeling of safety now pervades the community.

THE GOVERNOR WILL GO TO ROWAN.

FRANKFORT, June 30.—Acting Adjutant General Castleman arrived from Louisville this evening and was joined here by Gov. Knott. They started for Morehead, Rowan county. The Governor is anxious to investigate the conditions which have caused the recent lawless outbreaks, and will exert his personal efforts to quell the disturbances. The length of his stay in Rowan county is not known.

—The engineer of the Washington monument said it will stand 100,000 years, and children need be in no hurry to climb it.—Detroit Free Press.

—In British India the large river Satlej, which has a descent of 12,000 feet in 180 miles, or nearly sixty-seven feet per mile, is said to be the fastest flowing river in the world.

—The love of draw-poker passeth all understanding. If a player is a constant winner he is a gambler, and should quit. If he is a steady loser he is a fool, and should play no more. If it is a see-saw arrangement, the players eat up and drink up the profits, and should be in better business.—N. O. Picayune.

—The new paper bottles are said to withstand the action of water, wine and alcohol. It is thought that druggists will be able to furnish them free of charge, just as they provide wrapping paper for dry goods. The cementing material of the bottles is a mixture of sand, alumina, alum and lime.—N. Y. Sun.

There are about a dozen, more or less, breweries in and around Boston, and the number of barrels of beer manufactured may be counted by the hundreds of thousands. In 1883 there were drunk in Boston 756,140 barrels, and in 1884, 788,882 barrels, an increase of 32,742 barrels. Besides this, there are large importations of ale and porter from Europe.—Boston Globe.

—What children want, within the bounds of right, they should, if possible, have. Their wishes should be respected. The small desires of a child are, to him, as important as the great desires of a man, and should be carefully be considered. The wet blanket, "You can't have that," often causes keener pain to a boy than the loss of thousands of dollars in after life.—School Journal.

—Dan Rice, the circus clown, is running a ten cent circus in the French quarter of New Orleans. He talks sadly of the good old days when his Floating Palace was the sensation on the Father of Waters, and thousands upon thousands of people swarmed from far and near to see him. He gave an entertainment a few nights ago when not 300 persons were present, and about one-third of those were professional and other dead heads.

—Those people who argue that Grant is a great smoker, Grant is afflicted with cancer, therefore all smokers are afflicted with cancer, are very much like the English tourists who rode upon the box of an American omnibus. He noticed that the driver carried his whip in his left hand. Asking the reason, the driver replied: "I am left-handed." Straightway into the notebook went this astounding bit of information: "Stage drivers in America are left-handed."

—A safety paper manufactured by a Massachusetts firm will be of great use for anyone to tamper with bank notes or checks printed upon it. The coloring matter of the paper is so prepared that the application of any chemical to remove the ink will permanently change the color of the paper, and an ingenious device is added which betrays at once any attempt to make an erasure. Between the two the enterprising forger will be sure to come to grief.—Boston Journal.

—Pete Osterhout is one of the most rascally negroes in Galveston. He was caught stealing poultry and brought before the Justice. "The evidence," said the Judge, "shows that you stole the chickens from Colonel Jones' hen-coop, and the fine should be five dollars; but I'll let you off this time." "Who wants to be let off?" exclaimed the prisoner; "I steal my chickens and I pay my fine, and don't ask nuffin of nobody. I shan't mix up sentiment and business and what's ruin'd de kentry."—Texas Siftings.

—Dr. Heber Newton says: "Taking the average human life, he would be a bold man who, rightly weighing the manifold daily blessings which come like the sunshine and the dew, would venture to pronounce the lot of man rather of pain than of pleasure. Much of the pain of man is, moreover, to be subtracted from the charges against Providence and to be credited to our human responsibility. The thriftlessness of the poor, the greed of the rich, and the common ignorance of social laws cause most of our poverty."

—Successful experiments have been recently made at Cincinnati with the new electric railway brake. The trial was made with a heavy coal train of ten cars, each car weighing empty about eleven tons and having a tonnage capacity of 40,000 pounds. The loaded train, with full steam on, was put to a speed of forty-eight miles per hour on a down grade of sixty-eight feet to the mile, and brought to a dead stop in 37 seconds after putting on the brake, the distance run in that time being 445 yards, exact measurement.—Cincinnati Times.

—Dr. Dallinger, the eminent microscopist, holds that the development of living organisms in a piece of fish-muscle, previously subjected to a temperature of boiling water, does not indicate spontaneous generation, despite the belief that such a temperature is absolutely destructive of life. He hopes the microscope may yet reveal more about the details of the life of minute creatures, but, in the meantime, he says, philosophy must take it for granted that the principle of life is something wholly distinct from the matter with which it is clothed.—Courier.

—How many persons have even a rough idea of the average sun upon which by far the larger part of the citizens of the United States are fed, clothed and housed? A recent statistical estimate that eighty per cent. of the population of this country is supported by from forty to fifty cents per capita a day. At the latter figure this makes $164.25 as the average annual cost of living; but, as by average we mean the balance between extremes, there must be many persons who have not even this sum to live upon. That fifty cents a day is a generous estimate will be admitted when it is remembered that many mill operatives earn only from five to seven dollars a week, and that the wages of farm hands run from twenty to thirty dollars a month, and that on these sums the persons are often supported.—Chicago Times.
